PRESS RELEASE

CREATIVE COMPANY GOES TO JAPAN
Saturday, September 15, 1984

Japanese screens, kites, paper cranes, poetry, and painting are the subjects of a lively family program on Japanese art at The Cleveland Museum of Art on September 15. Adults with a child age six or older may choose to attend a gallery talk, a painting demonstration, or one of several studio sessions, and round the morning off with two short films. Registration is required for all but the films (telephone 421-7340, ext. 462). Each person registering for a studio session must mail $1 to cover the cost of materials to the Museum's Education Department by September 14.

10:00-10:30 am	Gallery Talk: Japanese Screens
10:00-11:30 am	Painting Demonstration: Mitsuko Sakata in the Garden Court
10:00-11:30 am	Meet in North Lobby to choose among kite making, origami, haiku, or painting studios
11:30 am	Films: Origami: The Folding Paper of Japan (15 minutes) The Princess of the Moon (animation, 18 minutes)

For more information about Creative Company Goes to Japan, telephone 421-7340, ext. 462.
